The IEEE Israel Section invites paper submission to the international conference on the science of electrical engineering (ICSEEI) to be held in Dec. 12–14, 2018, in the city of Eilat, at the beautiful northern coast of the Red Sea. The conference will cover a multiplicity of topics in a number of parallel sessions, in combination with joint sessions and activities designed to foster scientific interaction and synergy between various disciplines. Practitioners and scientists are invited to use this opportunity for exchanging information on the latest developments.

Conference highlights

- An invited full day symposium on Deep Learning
- An invited full day symposium on Optoelectronics
- An invited full day symposium on Circuits
- Special sessions on Bioelectronics and Speech Processing
- Best student paper competition
- A short course on Deep Learning

In 2018 the IEEE Israel Section anticipates a wide participation of professionals from Israel and abroad.

Conference Topics

- Bioelectronics
- Systems and Control
- Communication and Information theory
- Computers
- Acoustics, Speech and Signal Processing
- Image Processing and Computer Vision
- Machine Intelligence
- Microwaves, Antennas & EMC
- Electronic Devices
- High speed electronics
- Power Electronics, Power Engineering & Smart Grids
- Optical devices and systems

Submission of Extended abstracts Papers

The Extended abstract needs to be 3-5 pages long (the final paper will not exceed 5 paged). The abstracts can be formatted in the IEEE format.

Guidelines for paper preparation can be found in here. The submission website will be open on the 15th of April, 2018.
